The Power of Value

"Providing value is the hallmark of what we do."

When Howard Schetter opened his electrical contracting company in Sacramento in 1958, he began a legacy of value that has sustained for over five decades. Today Schetter Electric, Inc. dominates the market as one of the foremost full service electrical contractors in the industry. Our reputation for integrity, quality and expertise has made us a leader among contracting and engineering firms. Our range of services includes electrical contracting, structured cabling communication systems, 24/7 service and design/build installations for all industries including health care, education, manufacturing and technology.

We are a solution-driven company, focused on providing the best value to our customers during every phase of construction. No matter how large or small the project, we are always looking for solutions that will save our customers time and money and result in a better quality product. We bring added value to each project by listening, cooperating and becoming a respected resource to help customers achieve cost effective solutions. Our value is measured as the extra commitment Schetter makes to our customers, in the form of superior quality and outstanding customer service. This philosophy guides Schetter's vision into the future.

The Power of Quality

"Our dedication to quality, and getting the job right, is the goal of every team member."

Delivering a quality product is our first priority here at Schetter. As a well-established leader in the electrical contracting industry, we have a reputation for impeccable work and stellar project management. From design to installation, we focus on the quality of the products and the work we do. Our team is highly trained. We partner with the top manufacturers in the industry, and stand by our service. Schetter Electric is a solution-driven company, with the depth of staff and resources to deliver quality solutions to our customers. We oversee every aspect of a customer's project, from small service jobs to large scale multi-million dollar projects.

Quality begins with the right team. The Schetter team strives to develop connections with customers that lead to better communication and fewer problems during the construction phase.

The Power of Teamwork

“The relationship is critical to the ultimate success of the project.”

At Schetter, we become an extension of our customer’s project team. We collaborate with their staff, designers, architects and general contractors to expand the level of experts on the project. Communication is imperative as we work together to find time and cost effective solutions. We share information critical to the successful outcome of the project. This partnership approach is an inclusive process that brings team members together and improves the overall quality and cost efficiency of the project. Everyone benefits from a collaborative team environment. Schetter’s progressive partnership philosophy improves the quality and organization of every project.

The Power of Customer Service

“Our goal is to surpass our customers’ expectations.”

At Schetter Electric, the customer always comes first. We pride ourselves on our customer-focused business model that delivers the highest level of professional expertise to every project. Schetter’s management team, field personnel and support staff are committed to delivering successful projects, while building lasting relationships with our customers.

Schetter has created strong teams to manage projects and to maintain industry safety standards at every turn. We are proud of our outstanding safety record and dedication to our employees. Internally, we have a solid corporate culture with motivated, skilled and loyal employees. We provide a highly qualified workforce for each project, responsive from preconstruction through commissioning. We are committed to the work we do and to the customers who have entrusted their projects to us. The experience and commitment of the entire Schetter team ensures the job is done right, on time and on budget.

The Power of Experience

“Extensive experience leads to superior knowledge in the field.”

As a full service electrical contracting and engineering firm since 1958, Schetter brings the highest level of talent, training and experience to every project. We are extremely knowledgeable about our industry, from concept to completion. We are well versed in preconstruction, design/build project delivery, building information modeling and energy efficient technologies.

Our expert management team and highly skilled field crews have years of experience with ongoing training in their fields. We stay abreast of industry trends and technologies that impact our business and affect the clients' bottom line. Schetter has the team and resources to complete any project, from a tenant improvement to a highly technical medical facility.

The Power of Technology

“At our core, we're a progressive company constantly adapting to new technologies.”

Schetter is dedicated to providing our customers with energy efficient, green solutions. Our LEED accredited professionals and sustainable energy consultants assist clients with their energy retrofit and cogeneration needs. Our California Advanced Lighting Control Training Program (CALCTP) certified electricians have experience updating electrical systems in a cost effective, safe and efficient way. With a commitment to education and a partnership with local utility companies, Schetter is capable of developing the best energy solutions for your project.
